

Volume 28, Issue 18

Conference Announcement

Serciac05

Location : Montreal, Canada

Organizers : The Society for Economic Research on Copyright Issues

The economics of copyright, efficient information management, copyright law, intellectual property,
Major Topics : cultural economics, law and economics, industrial organisation, applied microeconomics, contract theory, collective management of IP rights

Conference Dates : 7/7/2005 to 7/7/2005

Submission Deadline : 3/20/2005

Send Submissions To : via e-mail as an attachment to richard@serci.org

Sponsoring Organizations : Canadian Copyright Board

For further information contact :

Web Page : <http://www.serci.org/congress.html>

The event is being organised locally by the Canadian Copyright Board (CB). The local organisation team is made up of Gilles McDougall (CB) and Marcel Boyer (CIREC and CIRANO, University of Montreal). The local organisation team together with Richard Watt (Universidad Autónoma de Madrid) and Ruth Towse (Erasmus University of Rotterdam) make up the scientific committee for the congress. The SERCI invited lecture for the congress will be delivered by Prof. William Baumol (NYU and Princeton University), on the topic "Intellectual Property - How Dissemination is Promoted by the Right to Keep it to Yourself". Successful authors will be notified before April 18th, 2005. Completed papers will be required before May 20th, and will be posted on the SERCI website. A selection of the papers from the congress will be published in the Society's journal, RERCI (see <http://www.serci.org/rerci.html>). The website will periodically provide d information regarding the congress.