The Central European Program in Economic Theory (CEPET) wants to inform you that the next Graz-Udine-Workshop will be held in Udine (IT), 23-24 June 2005. The Graz-Udine Workshop provides an opportunity to present research work at an early stage and get feedback from experienced scholars with international reputations. Young researchers are especially encouraged to participate. We also want to emphasize that publication of presented or other preliminary papers is possible under the CEPET Discussion Paper Series. Abstracts (approximately 250 words) or full papers should be submitted by (preferably) email to christian.klamler@uni-graz.at not later than 31 March 2005. Decisions on acceptance of submitted papers will be communicated no later than 30 April 2005. For additional information about CEPET and the CEPET Discussion Paper Series, please visit our web-site at: <http://www.kfunigraz.ac.at/fwiwww/home-eng/activities/cepets.html>. For further information feel free to contact Christian Klamler from the Institute of Public Economics at Graz University under christian.klamler@uni-graz.at.
