The 2013 Applied Economics Meeting jointly organized by Asociación Libre de Economía (Alde) (<http://www.alde.es>) and Revista de Economía Aplicada (<http://www.revecap.com>) will be held at the Universidad de Granada (Spain) June 6-7, 2013. The program will consist of contributed and invited papers. It is hoped that the research presented will represent a broad spectrum of applied economics and econometrics. All relevant information regarding the Scientific Committee, conference program, venue, registration, accommodation, social events and technical conference support will be made available through the following web site: <http://www.revecap.com/encuentros> Prospective contributors are invited to submit electronically the final version of their papers before February 28th, 2013: (https://editorialexpress.com/cgi-bin/conference/conference.cgi?action=login&db\_name=XVIENCUENTROAPLICADA). A program committee will select the papers for the conference. We are also very pleased to announce that there will be a new edition of the Young researchers Alde Prize awarded at the Applied Economics Meeting. The Prize will be for the best paper whose authors are under 35 years old. This prize is donated by Asociación Libre de Economía (ALdE) and amounts 1.500 €. All full papers (submitted by the deadline) stating their willingness to participate in the contest will be considered for the prize. The result of the selection process will be announced during the Meeting. In the website we can also find specific Call for Papers from Social Indicators Research and Economic Modelling. Papers submitted to the Conference will be considered for possible publication in a special issue in this journal.
